Dr. Powers Lists Qualities Necessary For Leadership

MEMBERS of the Monroe County Industrial Management Club heard a thought-provoking dissertation on the qualities necessary for leadership and its development at their meeting at Charlton's Lodge on Tuesday night. Speaker for the occasion was Dr. Eugene Powers, head of the Department of Education at East Stroudsburg State College.

In his initial remarks, the prominent educator dispelled the common idea that "leaders are born," with the statement that they are not born as such, but accomplish it only by hard work—the same as attaining excellence in any field.

Dr. Powers cited instances in the Korean campaign to point out what he termed an "American disgrace," the lack of leaders among Americans. He cited the instances where prisoners in camps were segregated. After capture, the deeply religious, the organizers and the highly educated were removed from the group. These constituted only 10 per cent. The other 90 per cent were kept in a group for indoctrination.

"This was not 'brain-washing,'" the speaker said, but rather being led to support or believe in a cause, to become subsequent apostles for the ideas presented.

Five Important
In listing the qualities needed for good leadership, Dr. Powers stated that, in his opinion, five were of paramount importance, namely:—Intelligence. The ability to think, at least to a greater degree than those being led.

—Know the job. If a leader does not, he loses status. He must have the intelligence and tenacity to continue to learn.

—Stamina, both physical and mental. He pointed out that physical fitness is really physical well-being. A leader must have physical stamina for hard work. Even more important is mental stamina, the ability to overlook annoyance and petty grievances, to make decisions, to say yes or no. Mental tenacity, too, is all-important.

—Courage of Convictions. A leader must believe his work is a keystone of his community and his nation. He must believe in his creed "violently." "The man with no guts," the speaker said, "will never make a leader."

—Sense of Morality. A leader must possess a keen sense of right and wrong. If he does not, time will catch up with him. He must believe in mankind and be unflinchingly on the side of right. He must realize that, come what may, only right and truth will survive.

These five qualities in a leader are essential, Dr. Powers stated. All other qualities are subservient to them. It is nice to have the others, he said, but he cannot lead without these basic five.

In fostering leadership, the speaker said that a principle of order is paramount. People are confused by disorder or doubt. Those under a leader need to know his capabilities and know the inherent pattern of his leadership.

Dr. Powers pointed out that people like to work; they like their jobs if they have a good leader. "Man, intrinsically, wants a better world, and to find truth and beauty," he said.

A leader must realize, too, that those under him want status, and if they do not have it, the leader is failing. The speaker recommended praise as a wonderful status builder.

Humanization Attribute
Humanization of the institution or industry is also an attribute to good leadership. It should be made a living, breathing thing—not something to be feared, Dr. Powers said. This is morale building and a basic attribute to leadership.

In summing up, Dr. Powers said: "The days ahead as a nation are filled with opportunity and dangers. It will never be won by wars or missiles, but it can be won by leadership in making a better world. In the competitive struggle ahead, the answer will be found in the everyday citizen who is properly led."

Calvin Butts, president of the Industrial Management Club, opened the session, and the speaker was introduced by Program Chairman Horace Walters, with a background by John Wilson, executive secretary of the club.

Autobahn Traffic Rises

HELMSTEDT, Germany (AP)—Traffic on the autobahn, the life-line linking Berlin with West Germany, increased by 10 per cent during 1961, German border officials reported Wednesday.

They said a total of about 1,200,000 cars, buses and trucks carrying 4.5 million passengers traveled along the 110-mile highway last year.

This figure included about 50,000 Allied soldiers moving between West Germany and the island city of Berlin.

'Stop Fast Trucks' Unit Organized In Mt. Pocono

A COMMITTEE to take action in stopping trucks from passing through Mount Pocono at high speeds was formed at a meeting of the Mount Pocono Rotary Club.

Vincent April was appointed chairman of the committee by Eric Danisch, club president. The action followed a lengthy discussion on speedy truck traffic in the borough.

Dr. Walter B. Fitzsimmons said that his wife and five children had just pulled away from the front of the April Camera Store when two tractor-trailers crashed into the building on Friday, Dec. 23.

Vincent April said last night, "The accident at my store and the bakery of George Wendley was not the first serious accident in the borough. A great amount of damage has been caused by trucks running out of control down Main St."

"Earlier in the year a truck caused damage when it struck the post office and another truck caused damage to a service station just south of the borough," he concluded.

Danisch said that the Rotary Club will contact the Governor's Safety Committee, Public Utility Commission and Interstate Commerce Commission to have representatives of their organizations attend a meeting at which time they will present recommendations to the club for action to be taken.

April said the committee will attempt to have a sign or signs erected north of the borough limits requiring all trucks to stop and go into low gear as they pass through the borough.

Mayor To Propose
Gerald Possinger, a member of the committee and also the mayor of Mount Pocono, said last night, "I will bring this matter to the attention of the council at its next meeting."

He added, "This is not the first time action like this has been undertaken. The council attempted to do something along the same line in 1955 following several accidents in the borough."

Both April and Danisch said that if there is anyone or any organization in the area that would like to aid the Lions in their drive, they are urged to contact either of the men.

Other members of the committee are Dr. E. O. Hendrick and Dick Mackisoud.

Name Berlin Wall

BERLIN (AP)—East German officials now call their 25-mile wall through the city of Berlin "Frontier Fortifications." The label was used in an English-language foreign affairs bulletin just issued by the East German regime.

DeNike To Judge Essays

PROF. Howard R. DeNike, associate professor at East Stroudsburg State College and director of safety education, has been selected to act as a judge in a contest of essays on Driver Improvement being conducted in the high schools of Pennsylvania.

The contest is sponsored by the Insurance Information Office of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, in conjunction with the Department of Public Instruction, Harrisburg. It has received the support of Governor David L. Lawrence.

It will be Prof. DeNike's task to read and evaluate the essays submitted, and to report his findings to the sponsoring organization. A statewide winner will be selected from overall ratings.

After the contest, the essays will be returned to the home communities of the contestants for publication in local and school papers.

Realistic Progress

In an era which seems to thrive on deficit spending, the budget submitted by Governor David L. Lawrence to the General Assembly on Tuesday is indeed heart-warming. If all things hold true, the new budget will take the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania into a new fiscal year with a surplus and its budget in balance for the first time in fourteen years.

The pattern set down by the Governor is indeed realistic progress, and it would be well if our legislators and government officials at all levels would take a lesson from it. The most interesting part of the whole situation is the object lesson that deficits can be cleared up and that deficit-spending can be eliminated.

When Governor Lawrence took office, the Commonwealth had an accumulated deficit of $177 million according to the records. As he leaves the gubernatorial chair, from present indications, he will have our state finances back in the black for the first time in many years.

The feelings of the citizens of Pennsylvania could be expressed in no better way than the words of Governor Lawrence in his budget message: "No one in the years ahead should knowingly let the deficit system be re-established in Pennsylvania." We would add a solemn "Amen!"

The presentation of a balanced budget for the coming fiscal year is by no means a matter of luck or chance. It represents untiring efforts on the part of the Governor to curb spending for unnecessary things and yet to add to essential services for the benefit of all of the people. It represents a close guard on the purse-strings of the public.

All through his administration, Lawrence flatly refused to approve any financial measure over and above his recommendations, unless provision to raise the funds needed were included in the legislation.

A balanced budget and the probability of no new taxes certainly deserve the plaudit, "Well Done," from the people to their Governor!

Opinions Of Other Editors

Self-Reliance Weakened

Sen. Joseph S. Clark has reason to warn Pennsylvania communities not to depend on the "old American principle of self-reliance for help in solving unemployment and other massive problems." For the truth is that, whether we like it or not, most American communities' determination to help themselves has been softened by a long diet of patronizing federal programs with the soothing assurance that "we can do it for you better than you can do it yourself."

The forum of Sen. Clark's remarks was the Governor's Conference on Community Development at Greensburg, one of a series set up to inform Pennsylvania municipalities of the state and federal aid available to them. It would seem that there is enough demand for handouts without holding special conferences to "sell" the programs.

Modern society is so complex and interlocked that some programs best can be resolved by the federal government. Flood control and stream pollution, for example, have such broad ramifications that no one community should be expected to act on its own. Pennsylvania discovered that its massive chronic unemployment problem could not be solved by an all-out, joint, state-local effort. But such functions as education, community development, sewage disposal and housing might be performed by the communities if some of the money now drained off by federal taxes were left to them.

Sen. Clark contends that federal participation is to be welcomed not deplored — and so it is for some broad projects. But the senator should seek to encourage community self-help rather than discourage it by promoting the idea of government as a big brother who knows best.

'Now He Tells Us!'

Harrisburg—Are legislative "probes" and "investigations" to become the order of the day —insofar as the 1962 Legislature is concerned?

The answer could perhaps best be put this way: Administration Democrats who hold the upper hand of control in the House (109-101) and are split evenly with anti-administration Republicans in the Senate (25-25) certainly in this critical election year cannot be expected to condone investigations of themselves!

However this point should be remembered: There are two types of "legislative probes" that can be initiated. One is a joint House-Senate (concurrent) probe, requiring the approval of both houses of the Investigative resolution.

The other is a single chamber probe—requiring only the approval of the chamber in which the Investigative resolution originates.

It is extremely unlikely that anything remotely approaching the former—the joint House-Senate clearance—will ever materialize in this session.

The latter possibility is just

Al Scavo, the Stroudsburg barbershop operator, has just completed 30 years in the borough.

Al migrated from Old Forge and has been shearing and shaving in the locality ever since.

Besides being the perennial head of the barbers' union, Scavo has branched out into the resort business with a spot up Tannersville way.

His age? Like Jack Benny, Scavo still maintains he's only 39. One of these years you'll be able to reverse that number and be correct.

Joseph Lisicky, First-Stroudsburg National Bank official, goes in for AM and FM radio in a big way. In fact, Joe was one of the ones who didn't foresee the early future of television in his hometown of Lansford.

Back in TV's infancy, Lisicky was pondering buying a TV set or a high-flying radio. He gave way to radio because the mountains surrounding Lansford had other ideas about letting the video picture in.

To make a long story short, cable service came along and allowed TV to work its way in every home. But this was after Joe decided to give radio its due and wait until TV became better focused.

Oh, we forgot to mention Lisicky has a TV set now. Nothing like watching one program on television and hearing your favorite music on radio—all at the same time, too.

About Town

This little motto and the author's comment was clipped from a physician's article on stress: Fight always for the highest attainable aim.

But never put up resistance in vain.

Everyone should fight for whatever seems really worth while to him. On the other hand, he should aim only for things attainable to him, for otherwise he will merely become frustrated. Finally resistance should be put up whenever there is reasonable expectation of its succeeding, but never if we know it would be in vain.

It is not easy to live by this motto; it takes much practice

Washington, January 3:—The U. S. is going to have its own open-skies inspection system operating over the Soviet Union and Communist China before the end of the year.

Under a high-priority Air Force program now underway, a world-wide network of Samos reconnaissance satellites will be kept in orbit at all times.

The Air Force's launching schedule calls for the orbiting of these spy-in-the-sky satellites at the rate of one a month during 1962.

If this tight schedule is kept, three Samos satellites will be constantly in the skies over the Soviet Union and Red China by August 1, when nine of these reconnaissance satellites will be in orbit. When one of these fails, another Samos will be immediately

The Allen-Scott Report

Full-Time Missile Reconnaissance

launched to take its place. Already, the U. S. has two Samos satellites orbiting the earth.

These satellites, launched within the past six weeks without any official identification, are now relaying to U. S. "readout" stations excellent photographs of important Soviet missile and other military installations. However, these satellites have one intelligence drawback. They only pass over Soviet territory every third day.

The planned network of nine Samos satellites will give the U. S. complete day-to-day coverage of the two Communist nations and their satellites.

As reported in this column on December 21, Soviet officials are fully aware of these satellites and their reconnaissance mission. As in the case of the U-2 plane, they are tracking each Samos every time it traverses Russia.

Significantly, the Kremlin is keeping an ominous silence about these flights. U. S. military intelligence officials believe this Soviet policy will continue until its scientists are able to successfully intercept and down one of the Samos satellites.

In support of this space intelligence network, the Air Force is also planning to launch six Midas satellites during 1962. These satellites are equipped with infrared scanners to detect missile blast-offs and atmosphere nuclear detonations.

There are now two Midas satellites traversing Soviet territory.

Man-in-space — When Lt. Col. John Glenn is shot into orbit next week, the odds for a successful flight will be a lot less than for the two earlier space trips of his fellow Astronauts.

Air Force records show that the Atlas rocket just isn't as reliable as the Army's Redstone rocket that put Astronauts Shepard and Grissom successfully into space for their five-minute sub-orbital rides.

Since the first Atlas missile shot in June 1957, there have been 86 Atlas shots. There have been generally down the range at Cape Canaveral, Florida, where Glenn will make his takeoff. Of these 86 launchings, however, only 52 have been successful.

That Atlas ratio of five-out-of-eight is no match for the 96 percent reliability of the Redstone.

There have been six shots of Atlas missiles during the Mercury man-in-space program; four were successful and two were failures. All Redstone-Mercury firings were successful.

Note: The tentative date set by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for Astronaut Glenn's orbital flight in January 13.

Looking Forward — A big head of steam is building among senators to bring order out of the legal mess that currently surrounds wiretapping. Legislators in both parties — among them, GOP Senator Kenneth Keating of New York and Democratic Senator Thomas Dodd of Connecticut — plan to push legislation to make unauthorized wiretapping a felony when the Senate convenes next week. At the same time, they would allow state and federal officials to tap wires if authorized by a federal judge. Passage remains in doubt, however, because of pressures from the Central Intelligence Agency, Defense Department, and the Justice Department. The FBI, most restrained of the agencies in this field, now maintains about 80 taps. The CIA and Defense Department have double that number. . . . The report that Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg sends to the President will contain only one spectacular recommendation. It will call for legislation giving authority to fact-finding boards to recommend contract settlements dealing with national emergency strikes. The committee's meetings so far have produced no accord on such basic problems as wage-price policy, taxes, and over-all labor-business legislation. . . .

McChesney Martin is letting his friends in Congress know that he had a major role in President Kennedy's decision to overrule some of his economic advisers who had urged a deficit in the federal budget for fiscal 1963. Martin argued that a balanced budget is essential to assure the integrity of the dollar overseas. In exchange, Martin agreed to use his vast powers to try to keep interest rates from climbing during the coming year.

Inside You And Yours

Dear Doctor...

By Burton H. Fern, M.D.

Dear Doctor: I'm no food fadist. But herbs definitely cured my asthma and added 30 pounds to my waistling 80-pound frame.

Mrs. I. L. (Texas)

Dear Mrs. L.: Herbs help. And their tasty twang can keep you eating.

Mediterranean Khellin sometimes relieves asthma. Doctors often prescribe tree bark laxatives, plant root tranquilizers and leafy heart stimulants. But instead of chewing the whole bark, root or leaf you merely swallow the chemically active ingredients.

About Enemas

Dear Doctor: When giving an enema, how sterile should the water and equipment be? Is tap water safe?

Mrs. A. D. (Tenn.)

Dear Mrs. D.: Any water clean enough to drink is clean enough for the other end of the digestive passage, too. Enema equipment need not be sterile.

Increasing Height

Dear Doctor: Can a $15 course of exercises stretch the discs between spinal bones and increase my 4 foot 11 inch height?

Miss S. S. (Calif.)

Dear Miss S.: You might stand taller—especially without that $15 to weigh you down. But even medieval stretch-racks couldn't widen those spinal discs.

Grow without exercise. Wear small patterns or narrow

Broadway Giants

The titans of the theatre eventually attain the grandeur and enduring qualities of mountains. Those who have gained the glorious summit are unique and irreplaceable. By and large they have given the theatre much of its fire and thunder. They are the Pied Pipers, the magic stars, the Aladdins of showmanship, the wonder-workers of words-and-music. Among the wonder-workers was Moss Hart, of course. For over three decades he made immense contributions to the theatre. He gave it wit, charm, imagination and taste. Actually, his passion for the theatre was a lifelong romance. He had a great respect for its people and their talent. Hart once observed: "For me, the theatre is not an imitation of life—it is life."

Eugene O'Neill's titanic accomplishments highlight the history of Broadway. Not many playwrights attracted the lofty critical laurels he reaped. Reviewers frequently transformed their typewriters into musical instruments to sing his praises. Nevertheless, he was acutely sensitive to criticism. If a second-string critic on a small-town paper panned one of his plays, he brooded for days.

In the realm of modern music George Gershwin's name stretches across the viewless heights. Although many of his melodies made him nationally famous, one great burst of rhythm guaranteed immortality. Ironically, his greatest success was con-

An Expert Experts

Fred Warner Neal is reputed to be an expert on Russian affairs. He has been chief of the foreign economic research on Eastern Europe in the State Department. He presided over this country's first cultural relations program with the Soviet Union, and organized the Russian broadcasts of the Voice of America.

This expert, in a pamphlet published by the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions by the Fund for the Republic, said:

"During the past fifteen years the Soviet Union has steadily grown not only in economic and military power but also in world influence, while the area dominated by communism has expanded. At the same time, American policy has become wholly enmeshed in a nuclear arms race which, far from promoting our security, has within it the seeds of war and thus of destruction of our whole civilization."

As one reads this paragraph, it is to be presumed that Soviet Russia is performing a noble task by spreading its imperial power by economic and military expansion whereas the United States is performing a criminal act by organizing to defend itself and its allies against conquest by Soviet Russia.

Neal apparently does not believe that we are organizing to protect this country from being conquered as Hungary or Tibet have been conquered by Russia that we should give in to Russian suzerainty. For instance, he says:

"And a solicitous concern for the very objectives we seek to further makes it necessary to state that the responsibility for today's dangerous international situation must also be shared in no little degree by American policy."

I gather that Neal feels that the United States has pushed Soviet Russia into its ugly attitude. For instance, he says:

"Pushed by fear, ignorance, and ideology, which often adds up to false views of the world, the Russians are frequently not only churlish but also in intentional conflict with much of what we stand for at home and abroad. Their insistence on this conflict, partly in the hope of fostering communism throughout the world, is a type of aggression, but in and of itself it is not necessarily military aggression."

But what are the facts? It was the United States which rescued Siberian provinces of Soviet Russia from the Japanese who would in 1918 to 1920 have had no difficulty in walking off with that loot. I was there and watched that performance from beginning to end.

It was the United States which sent food to Soviet Russia in the 1920's when the Revolution was collapsing from hunger. It was the United States which gave Soviet Russia $11,000,000,000 to defend itself against conquest by Hitler after the Hitler-Stalin Alliance was broken; it was the United States which brought Soviet Russia into the family of Western nations.

As I read this curious apology for Soviet Russia, I wonder what can possibly be its justification. For instance, Neal says:

"Nowhere in the whole body of Soviet Marxist theory is there the implication that the Soviet Union, for ideological or any other reasons, should

Stroudsburg Council's Committee Members Named

PRESIDENT Joseph W. Kovarik named committee members at last night's meeting of Stroudsburg Borough Council.

Kovarik named himself chairman of the finance committee with John R. Hauser and Stephen Sackley as members. Other appointments include: Police and fire committee; Robert L. Weichel, chairman; Sackley and Harold E. Altomus, Public property committee; Altomus, chairman; Weichel and Kovarik, Street committee; Sackley, chairman; Altomus and Hauser, Health Sanitation committee; Hauser, chairman; Weichel and Kovarik.

Council was notified by the State Highways Dept. that the access road built by the state as part of the construction of the Stroudsburgs Thruway is the responsibility of the borough for maintenance. The road leads to D. Katz and Son Junk yard and the former Pocono Shoe plant.

Harold E. Snyder, borough manager, was directed to contact the highways department informally to determine if a crosswalk can be erected across Main St. from the A. B. Wyckoff Store to the A. and P. Store as suggested in a letter from Radio Station WVPO. The borough manager said that the cost of installing traffic signals there, if required by the state, would be about $1,000.

In other action, Council:

Accepted the resignation of William C. Sunday as a member of the Police Civil Service Commission and deferred naming a successor until the February meeting, Sunday recently moved to Hamilton Township.

Authorized installation of a 4,000 lumen vapor lamp at the entrance to the borough parking lot on Main St. between Seventh and Eighth Sts. at a cost of $114.60 a year.

Deferred until the February meeting the annual allocation of the borough's gasoline business to the various service stations in the borough after it was pointed out that one station is giving a discount to the fire department, while the other departments are paying regular prices for their gasoline.

Okay Borrowing $75,000 — Authorized borrowing of $75,000 from First-Stroudsburg National Bank as needed during the year at three percent interest.

Heard a report that the outgoing council had authorized payment of $2,868.10 as the borough's share of construction of an access road and building for the sanitary landfill shared jointly by Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg. The action was taken at a special meeting last month.

Set Jan. 17 as a special meeting at which the budget for the coming year will be discussed.

PM Realtors Elect Dreher

WALTER H. DREHER was elected president of the Pocono Mountains Realtors Board at a meeting yesterday. Harold Heberling was named vice president, and Forrest R. Smith, secretary-treasurer.

Smith announced that president John Frinzi of the Eastern Board of Realtors had named Ted Lewis general chairman of the District 1 Conference to be held in Easton in early spring.

Smith also told of the meetings he will attend this week in Harrisburg which will consist of various committees, board presidents and secretaries, board of directors, and end with the inaugural dinner for 1962 president of the state association, John B. Kendig, Jr. of Lancaster.

Officers will be installed by national past president Boyd T. Barnard. The speaker for the Dinner is Walter E. Hoadley.

New Type Surgery For Area Man

MOUNT POCONO — Lloyd Lutz, Mount Pocono, will undergo major surgery today at 9 a.m. in the Baltimore City Hospital.

The operation will include the placing of a plastic tube in the main artery from the heart leading to the legs. Lutz has a condition in the artery that is similar to a rupture but not a complete rupture. The operation will be one of the first of this type.

Several weeks ago he was informed that a "great deal of blood will be needed" to make the operation possible. When the American Red Cross Bloodmobile recently visited Stroudsburg more than 16 persons from the area donated blood in his name. This amount is in addition to the 20 pints donated by men at Tobyhanna Signal Depot.

All citizens interested in the economic welfare of our area are urged to attend this meeting.

Mt. Pocono Council Reorganizes

ALBERT STETS was reelected president of Mt. Pocono Borough Council at its reorganizational meeting Tuesday.

Irvine Gross was elected vice president; Elmer D. Christine was retained as solicitor and East Stroudsburg National Bank was renamed depository for borough funds.

Council agreed to meet at 8 p.m. on the first Monday of each month, the current regular meeting date.

Mayor Gerald Possinger administered the oath to Gross, Stets and John Sutton, reelected councilmen.

In other business council voted to retain Atty. Elmer D. Christine as borough solicitor and Edward Hess as borough engineer.

Council also agreed to meet on the first Monday of each month at 8 p.m. in the Borough Building.

East Stroudsburg National Bank was also renamed as depository for borough funds.

Servicemen Complete Training

THREE area naval servicemen have completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

The men are: John P. McCloskey, son of Joseph G. McCloskey of 45 Walnut St., East Stroudsburg; Raymond L. Borger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Levi A. Borger of Kresgeville and Wayne C. Kelper, brother of Mrs. Clara Sheehan of 268 N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg.

Graduation exercises, marking the end of the nine-weeks of training, included a full-dress parade and review before military officials and civilian dignitaries.

Elks Meet Tonight

THE FIRST New Year lodge session of B. P. O. Elks No. 319 will be held today 8 p.m. at the Lodge Home.

Arthur E. Kitzman, chairman of the Charity Committee, extended thanks to his group and all members who assisted in preparing and distributing the Christmas Charity baskets to the needy.

Exalted Ruler Sam Zaccaro announced that movies of interest to all members will be shown following tonight's Lodge session.

Junior Corps Plans Drill

A PRACTICE session of the Junior Drum and Bugle Corps, sponsored by Thomas Lambert Post No. 2540, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be held at the Post home on Saturday afternoon.

Buglers will practice from 2 to 4 p.m., and drummers from 3 to 5 p.m.

At three o'clock the same day, a meeting of the parents of all the boys will be held. It is important all parents attend.

Japs To Build Radio Stations

TOKYO (AP)—Japan will build two huge transmitting stations this year to cooperate with the United States in developing space communications, a research official said Wednesday.

The two stations will send and receive radio signals from U. S. communications satellites, said Dr. Shogo Namba, chief of the Research Institute of Denso Denway Co., a private firm.

74-Hour Gas Tax Collection Tops 1922 Take

HARRISBURG — As of about 2 o'clock this morning, Pennsylvania motorists had already paid as much gasoline tax — during the first 74 hours of 1962 — as was once collected in this state in a whole year.

Such was the comparison made yesterday by J. A. Lorimer, chairman of the Associated Petroleum Industries of Pennsylvania, based on present estimates that Pennsylvania highway users this year will pay $368.8 million under the 7-cent State gasoline tax and the 4-cent Federal tax (an average of $1.010.413 per day).

Noting that $3,112,000 was the amount of gasoline tax revenue collected in Pennsylvania in 1922, the first full year of motor fuel taxation in this state, Lorimer said this year's estimated tax take is 118.5 times as high, although the number of vehicle registrations in the state has increased less than five-fold since then.

"The big difference," Lorimer said, "is that today's total tax rate on gasoline in Pennsylvania is 11 times as high as the original one-cent rate — a tax load which now adds 55 percent to the selling price of gasoline on the average, and costs car owners an average of more than $83 a year per vehicle."

Lorimer said his projected estimate of gasoline tax revenues for 1962 may be "slightly optimistic," although "some allowance was made for the persistent loss in taxable gallonage that has been experienced in Pennsylvania ever since the 40 percent increase of the State tax rate went into effect last April 1."

Lorimer noted that in contrast to the customary yearly growth in motor fuel consumption, which he said in this state had averaged 126.2 million additional gallons per year over the ten-year period of 1950-59, the latest official figures now show that Pennsylvania's taxable gallonage of motor fuels for the first seven months following the April 1 tax increase fell 70 million gallons short of the figure for the same period of 1960.

Dear Abby

Your Judgment Shows!

Dear Abby: I am an intelligent girl. I hold down a good job, but need a little help with my love life. I have been going with a very eligible man for several months. I know he is crazy about me, and he is the man I want to marry. He can give me everything I want in life—social position, financial security, and the works. I am having trouble getting him even to talk about marriage. I have given him all the encouragement a man could want. I have led this horse to water. Now, how do I make him drink?

ANXIOUS TO WED

Dear Anxious: You can't—so take off the spurs sister. This "horse" could turn out to be a camel.

Dear Abby: Our son is married to a very peculiar girl. Last month my husband suddenly fell ill and we rushed him to the hospital for an emergency operation. I wrote our son telling him about it, but we heard nothing from him. Finally, when his father was out of danger, I telephoned our son to tell him the good news. He said he didn't know his father had been sick!

Then his wife wrote us a nasty letter saying she never gave our son the letter because she "didn't want him worrying about any of his folks," and, "please not to write him any more bad news." Can you imagine the nerve of that girl! What do two elderly parents do in a case like this?

BADLY HURT

Dear Hurt: Call your son, person-to-person, and let him know what is going on. If he wants to put up with this kind of censorship from his wife, there is nothing you can do. But if he is interested in knowing of your welfare, ask HIM how you may reach him without any interference.

Dear Abby: Once in a while a member of our family will go to bed early to get some much needed sleep. Then someone will drive by, and even though it is as late as 10:00 p.m. they will ring the bell saying, "The lights were still on so we knew everyone was still up." I think this is a waste of a lot of gall. What do you do with callers who don't know any better than that?

JUST PLAIN MAD

Dear Mad: Freeze them out with a chilly reception and it will be a hot day in December before they pull that stunt again.

Confidential To Amy, Father O'H., and Mrs. D. D. K.: I am returning your money. Sorry, but

I do not sell my own books. If your local bookstore doesn't have DEAR TEEN-AGER, ask them to order it for you.

Are things rugged? For a personal reply, write to Abby, Box 395, Beverly Hills, Calif., and don't forget a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 395, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Musicians Accept 3 Members

THREE NEW members were accepted by the American Federation of Musicians Local 577 Bangor-Stroudsburg Tuesday night at the regular meeting in Musicians Hall, Bangor.

Larry R. Smith of Kunkletown, Douglas C. Beck of Mt. Bethel and Donald C. Stock of Bangor were the new accepted members.

Carl Rice, president, had charge of the meeting. Reports were submitted by Samuel Canova, secretary-treasurer.

Cards of thanks were received from the First Methodist Church Bangor, and the 20 Club of Wind Gap for music provided by the Concert Band.

Michael Capone, a member of the union, who had been a patient at Easton Hospital, also expressed his gratitude to the organization.

Nelo Maso, business agent, presented his report and Fred Sabatine, project chairman for the Recording Transcription Fund, reported that the Concert Band would play at the Presbyterian Church, Pen Argyl, on Jan. 21 and that Walter Lane and six musicians would appear at the Monroe County Home on Jan. 14.

The following officers were sworn in for the new year:

Carl Rice, president; Fred Sabatine, vice president; Sammy Canova, secretary - treasurer; Kenneth Brown, membership chairman. The following executive board members were named: Bill Diehl, Roger Miller, Ernest Lohman, Nelo Maso, Burt Seal, and Joseph P. Falcone, the latter in absentia.

In the meeting of the Home Association, the following officers were sworn in:

Carl Rice, president; Nelo Maso, secretary-treasurer; directors Kenneth Brown, Roger Miller, Fred Sabatine, Ernest Lohman, Bill Diehl and Burt Seal.

Mutual Banks Gain $2 Billion

NEW YORK (AP) — Mutual savings banks gained an estimated $2 billion in deposits during 1961, the national Association of Mutual Savings Banks estimated yesterday.

An estimated $38.3 billion in deposits was expected to be in the vaults as the banks opened their doors for 1962 Tuesday, the association said. The 1961 gain in deposits was nearly half as much again as the rise of $1.4 billion during 1960.

Philadelphia Eggs

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Eggs. Fair. Prices to retailers in cartons. Grade A large whites 45-50, Grade A medium whites 39-47.

TB In Mexico

MEXICO CITY—The Ministry of Health and Welfare estimates that one out of every 100 Mexicans has tuberculosis, with at least 10,000 a year dying from the disease.

State Revenues

HARRISBURG (AP) — The state's Office of Administration reported yesterday that state revenues for the fiscal period from June 1 through Dec. 29 were $1,485,000 above estimates.

Lower Prices

HONG KONG (AP) — Japanese goods are reported out-ricing locally produced goods and other imported articles in this so-called "bargain basement of the Orient." A Hong Kong merchant said one reason is that the Japanese need the foreign exchange.

Just Between Us — —

—By Bobby Westbrook

Well, the captains and the kings depart — and so do the holiday decorations. But doesn't Main Street look bare? As bare as my living room but much neater. In fact almost antiseptic including the severe store window displays, as if everybody concerned had exhausted every bit of whimsy, every last drop of imagination, and had only the energy to present unvarnished reality.

The family food is apt to be presented the same way — no more cherries on the breakfast grapefruit — in fact if you get it at all it's with the seeds and the center pith still in. But, you know, hash for dinner and bread and milk before bedtime tastes sort of good after all the exotic concoctions.

However, it is a little sudden — like breaking too fast on an icy road, we're apt to skid from sheer momentum. So it may be heartening to know that there are places where Christmas still lingers a little longer.

At Claude and Peg Cramer's for instance on South Green it lingered long enough for her bridge club luncheon — and Peg had really outdone herself this year. One of the most unusual decorations was a tree of natural greens stuck into a mammoth pine cone they'd brought home from Pinehurst, each little branch with tiny ornaments and birds.

There was also a bird wreath on an inner door on which rested all manner of miniature birds in brilliant plumage, and a wall panel of Madonna Christmas cards.

By tradition, Christmas festivities last until Twelfth Night — which isn't until next Saturday — by when we'd all be dead — but then, traditionally, they didn't begin celebrating the weekend after Thanksgiving either. But I still feel a little festive as long as the pine needles keep creeping out of their hiding places no matter how often I vacuum. As long as the mice don't come creeping back, too.

Miss Shirley Marion Brown Bride Of Wayne Pysher

Bangor — Miss Shirley Marion Brown, daughter of Mrs. Clarence J. Brown of Bangor RD 1 and the late Mr. Brown was married on Dec. 27 at 7:30 p.m. at St. Mark's United Church of Christ, Ficksville, to Wayne Lowell Pysher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay D. Pysher of Ficksville.

Rev. Charles O. Leibig performed the ceremony with Mrs. Cornell Wallwork as organist and Cornell Wallwork as soloist.

Given in marriage by her brother, Carl J. Brown, the bride wore a gown of pale ivory silk organza over taffeta fashioned with a scoop neckline embroidered with satin applique. The bouffant skirt ended in a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a miniature crown of pearls and rhinestones. She carried a cascade bouquet of philanopos and fern.

Mrs. Carolyn M. Brown of 225 Fairview Ave., Easton, niece of the bride, was her matron of honor. She wore a gown of American beauty velvet and carried a white fur muff with pink camellias and roses.

Miss Debbie Brown, also a niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid and also wore velvet in a shade of American beauty rose and carried a white fur muff with camellias and roses. Another niece, Miss Marcia Ann Brown, was flower girl with a miniature gown of American beauty velvet trimmed with white lace. She carried a basket of pink sweetheart roses.

Larry Iltterly of Ackermanville was best man. Ushers were Alvin Iltterly of Waterville, N.Y., and Garry Dorney of Nazareth RD. 3.

A reception was held at the church social rooms before the newlyweds left for a wedding trip to Washington, D. C. and Virginia.

They were both graduated from Bangor Area Joint High School. The bride attended Churchman's Business College, Easton, and is also associated with Brown's Florist.

Mr. Pysher is a senior at Rider College, Trenton, N. J., majoring in accounting.

Thus far the New Year might just as well be the Same Old Year. Nothing too, too exciting has happened. Along with thousands of other "working mothers" (and what mother doesn't qualify for that description, pray tell!) I am still doing the same old chores in much the same old way . . . picking up the same ash trays, finding the same sink full of the same glasses stained with milk, and setting the same alarm for the same early morning arousal. It isn't that I'd wish for any big, revolutionary change . . . but a break in routine now and then is a lovely thing.

While my daughter ushered in the New Year at the Y party, my son and I laughed it in at the Sherman theatre where Bette Davis returned triumphantly to the screen after far too long away in "Pocketful of Miracles." The Damon Runyon characters of this delightful story are many, varied, and completely intriguing . . . but I was particularly interested in seeing how completely a change of clothes and makeup, a becoming hairdo, and the right foundation garments worked a miracle in the appearance of "Apple Annie" (Miss Davis) and turned her from a Broadway beggar into a grand lady in a twinkling.

It is only fair to say that with Miss Davis the "proper grooming" bit acted in reverse . . . for she was made up to look grubby, hippy, and horrid as Apple Annie, and later appeared in her usual "face and figure" for the finale. Nevertheless, the fact remains that the great majority of us could look a great deal better than we do if we took more time with our makeup, our choice of apparel and that ever-important corset and bra, our hairdo, and the way we walk.

All of which leads me right back to such familiar areas as our Wyckoff Cosmetic and Fashion departments . . . Beauty Salon . . . and, of course, "Corset Corner." In the latter, Betty Colvin shows me some really beautiful garments at dollar-saving markdowns, including a number of Vanity Corsettes for the heavier figure, sizes 36 to 44. Of drip dry dacron with leno elastic panels, some have rigid back, others have a stretch back. Prices are 10.99 and 11.99, regular 13.50 and 15.00.

For the slimmer figure we have an excellent Whirl-eze garment with cross boning (cross cross really, NOT angry) comes in sizes for 10.00, and sale priced 7.99. This made to sell 29 to 36. Funny thing, but whenever I mention "Whirl-eze," I think of a washing machine rather than a girdle. Or maybe it isn't so strange after all . . . a Whirl-eze garment can eliminate a woman's figure faults with the same ease one of our Frigidaire automatics can whooosh the soil from a man's work trousers. Both girdle and washer are clamps in their field . . . so why not have a field day and flatter YOUR figure?

IT'S FOR THE BIRDS—meaning the seed supply in our Gift department. We have sunflower seeds at 39c and 60c, and mixed seeds at 59c, so treat your feathered friends today. Personally, I like sunflower seeds, but I'm sure these aren't prepared the way humans prefer 'em. If they were, a lot of birds would go hungry while people pilfered their feeding trays! . . . My in-laws have in their home a prized, antique bottle shaped like a fish, and I am reminded of it every time I see the fish-shaped serving dishes in our Gift department. The larger is 2.98; the smaller, 1.98. The scales are an iridescent green and pink, the bulbous eye is bright yellow. These would be perfect for serving fish loaves, molds, and such, or even for antipasto. With them around, I wasn't too surprised to see several of my male co-workers going through the store the other morning carrying fishing poles. But guess what they were catching!—strings of Christmas ornaments dangling from our light fixtures. . . . Speaking of huf-fets and informality, you did see those wooden, handled buckets designed for Potato Chips and Pretzels, didn't you? They are 3.98 . . . And here's something NEW—the assortment of Valentine's by Hallmark, Norcorss and Rustcraft just set out on the racks in our Carcade. Priced from 5c to 1.00, they are charming, with my special favorites being the Heirloom Cards that are lacy, gushy, and lavish with Forget-Me-Not's. When it comes to romance, I'm the biggest softy you could hope to find—but then, I'm not the only one who likes these nostalgic cards. We sold out in a flash last year.

New Car Luncheon

Hornung Calls Green Bay Best Disciplined Outfit

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The Green Bay Packers have none of the physical traits which mark a champion football team — their trademark is unity and intelligence, Paul Hornung said Wednesday.

"We're not a great ball club," the hard-running halfback told a press luncheon honoring him as the outstanding player of last Sunday's National Football League championship game in Greey Bay, Wis.

"But I've never seen a team with better discipline, more intelligence or greater unity of purpose."

"Every man knows his job—and he does it in a cool, businesslike manner. That, I think, is the secret of our success."

Gets Car

Hornung, an Army jeep driver at Ft. Riley, Kan., flew into New York to accept a sports automobile awarded annually by a magazine to the top player of the title game.

The onetime Notre Dame golden boy, now 26, won the award by leading the assault in a surprising 37-0 rout of the New York Giants.

He scored one touchdown, kicked three field goals and converted four extra points. He ran for 89 yards in 20 carries and caught three passes for 47 additional yards.

Hornung said the Packers knew shortly after the opening kickoff that they were going to win—"and win big."

"It's one of those things that you can feel but can't describe. We were definitely up for the game and everything was going right for us. We got every break in the book and capitalized on all of them."

"It happened to be our day."

NFL Players Seek Better Time System

HOLLYWOOD BEACH, Fla. (AP)—National Football League players recommended Wednesday that the scoreboard clock be made the official clock during games in order to eliminate confusion.

A players committee meeting also urged that the use of face guards be continued.

The players' representatives heard reports of confusion during several games this season because the scoreboard clock was several seconds at variance with the official one.

"Players look at the scoreboard during the last few minutes each half, and the outcome of a game can be affected if the clock is wrong," said Kyle Rote, president of the players' representatives.

The committee agreed that despite reports of injuries caused by face guards, these contribute to the players' safety.

"Very few of us would step out on the field without them," said Rote.

Pete Retzlaff of the Philadelphia Eagles was elected president, succeeding Rote.

LSU Will Battle To Keep Coach Says Board Member

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A member of Louisiana State University's board of supervisors advised Army authorities Wednesday he would ask the board to take legal action to prevent Paul Dietzel from breaking his LSU football coaching contract.

Tom Dutton, New Orleans auto dealer and a member of the board for 24 years, said he sent telegrams to the superintendent of the military academy as well as its athletic director, and to Army Secretary Elvis Stahr.

Though Dietzel has been non-committal, reports have it that he will ask LSU for a release from the remaining four years of his $18,500 per year contract, and take the head coaching job at Army.

Coach Returns

Earlier, LSU's athletic director, Jim Corbett, said he would do "everything within reason" to keep Dietzel at LSU. Corbett arrived from Miami about one hour after Dietzel and the football team came back from Miami where LSU whipped Colorado 25-7 in the Orange Bowl on New Year's Day.

Corbett said he talked the situation over with Dietzel since Army made its overtures to the 38-year-old former West Point aide, but, Corbett said, Dietzel has made no formal request for release.

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Louisiana State University Wednesday brushed aside questions whether he will go to West Point.

He arrived by plane with his squad from their Orange Bowl victory in Miami.

"I don't have anything to say, I really don't," Dietzel told newsmen.

Dietzel was asked whether he would fly to West Point Thursday to discuss an offer to take over the head coaching job there.

"That's what I read in the newspapers," he said before leaving for his home.

The Army hopes to announce Thursday the 38-year-old coach, will sign a five-year contract at a reported $20,000 a year.

His LSU contract, at a current $18,500 a year, has four years to run.

A member of the LSU Board of Supervisors, which has been waiting for definite word whether Dietzel wanted a release from his contract, hinted Wednesday the university was ready to make a higher offer to Dietzel.

Percy Roberts, board vice chairman, said he believes there is still a chance Dietzel will choose to remain at LSU, where he has enjoyed great success.

"I'm sure the board would seriously consider further remunerations," Roberts added.

Both Teams Played Away

HARLAN, Ky. (AP)—The coaches at Harlan and Bell County High schools knew their teams were to meet in a basketball game Tuesday night, but there was some confusion on the site.

"We thought the game was at your school," said one. "Well, we thought it was at your school," said the other.

So the teams unwittingly passed each other on the road and there was a visiting team at both schools—but no home team.

After apologies, the coaches agreed to play Wednesday night — at Harlan.

U. S. Bowl To Feature Top Pro Draft Choices

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—"We don't have the big names, but we've got the boys the pros wanted—the ones they drafted."

Jim Castiglia, former Georgetown and Washington Redskins fullback, was talking about his bowl game—the U.S. Bowl.

The U.S. Bowl will match draft choices of the East division of the National Football League against those chosen by teams in the West division in D. C. Stadium Sunday. The game will be televised nationally.

"For the average person," said Castiglia, U.S. Bowl president,

"there are only four or five big names each year. After that he gets lost. To a large extent our teams are picked by the professional talent scouts — the men whose business it is to know good football players."

Practice Opens

Workouts began Wednesday in freezing weather.

Quarterbacking the West team will be Galen Hall, star of Penn State's Gator Bowl winners, and Bobby Hunt of Auburn.

Directing the attack of the East squad will be George McKinney, who played for Arkansas in the Sugar Bowl, and Bobby Ply of Baylor.

Other stars expected to play Sunday are Arizona's Joe Hernandez and Bobby Lee, Clyde Brock of Utah State and Benny McRae of Michigan.

The game is sanctioned by the National Collegiate Athletic Association and players taking part are not paid.

Profits will be donated to the Gene Brito Fund, to help take care of the former Redskins and Los Angeles Ram defensive end who now is seriously ill.

Wilma, Maris To Get Awards

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Home running Roger Maris and sprinter Wilma Rudolph Ward, selected as the man and woman athlete of the year in The Associated Press poll, will receive their Frederick C. Miller memorial trophies Thursday night at the awards banquet of the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

The Eagles trophies, named after the late Milwaukee brewer and sports figure, are presented each year to the AP's selections of outstanding athletes.

For willowy Wilma it is the second straight year for the honor. She was an overwhelming choice after her triple triumph in the 1960 Olympic Games, and retained her position by setting a world record of 11.2 seconds for the 100-meter dash at Stuttgart, and by lowering her own record for the 60-yard dash indoors to 6.8 seconds.

Maris, the Yankee slugger whose 61 home runs topped Babe Ruth's mark of 60, was the American League's most valuable player in 1961.

Cavaliers Open First Swim Season At Allentown Today

EAST Stroudsburg High School opens its first swimming season today at William Allen High School, Allentown, the first of eight meets.

Coach Jack Kist has been working with a squad of 14 swimmers but only 12 will take part in the meet today. Charles Spenser is recovering from a tonsillectomy and Doug Millard has a heavy cold.

The rest of the squad is made up of Joe McIntyre, Larry Hunt, Pat Morrison, Dick Blake, Dick Alieger, Jack Burkhart, B111 Viechnicki, Jim Wilkens, B111 Hay, Jere Nittle, Arly Wolberts and Kirk Nelson.

The club, which faces probably the toughest schedule of any Cavalier athletic team has three home matches. The Cavaliers will host Parkland on Jan. 24, Emmaus on Feb. 7 and Whitehall on Feb. 14.

Schedule
Thursday, Jan. 5 at William Allen.
Friday, Jan. 12 at Dieruff.
Friday, Jan. 19 at Wilson.
Wednesday, Jan. 24 Parkland.
Friday, Feb. 2 at Bethlehem.
Wednesday, Feb. 7 Emmaus.
Monday, Feb. 12 at Easton.
Wednesday, Feb. 14, Whitehall.

None of the swimmers have had any competitive experience but Kist has been working the squad five times a week to make up for the lack of experience.

Top Swimmers
Kist feels that his top swimmers are Morrison in the 100-yard freestyle and 100-yard butterfly, Nelson in the 100-yard freestyle, Viechnicki and Wilkens in the 100-yard breast stroke and Blake in the 200-yard freestyle. Blake and Spenser will handle the team's diving.

Gardening Indoors

By George Abraham

A Good House Plant: One of the finest little house plants you can grow is the long-lasting Kalanchoe (pronounced Kal-an-koh-ee), valued for its showy heads of bright red flowers. Lacking a common name, Kalanchoe tolerates house conditions, and does well when grown on the dry side, since it is a succulent, or "soft-tissued" plant.

The foliage is glossy-green and very attractive. You can start Kalanchoe from seed sown now in a sand-peat mix. Tom Thumb is a dwarf variety ideal for pots. Brilliant Star is larger flowered and of a more orange-red color. It grows taller (12 inches or so) and you can use the flowers in vase arrangements.

After your Kalanchoe finishes flowering, cut off the flower stalks and you will be pleasantly surprised to find a second crop of blossoms. Even when you don't have blossoms, you'll find that the glossy foliage is nice to have around.

Yellow Camellias: Looking for a yellow-flowered Camellia? Search no further because there's no such thing, even though one variety is listed as "Fortune's Yellow". There may be one someday but don't fall for any advertisement describing it.

By the way, how is your camellia doing indoors these days? Buds dropping off, leaves turning yellow, plant refusing to bloom? If so, better sit down and write for a copy of my brand new bulletin, "How to Grow Camellias." Send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope and I'll see that you get your copy for happy reading in 1962.

Tomatoes Again: Since some of you will soon be sowing tomato seed, you're probably wondering which varieties are best listed in catalogs. You may not find old favorites listed such as John Baer, Marglobe, Break-0-Day, but don't worry if you don't.

Modern varieties are a lot better, and selection is much greater. There are some good hybrids on the market, but this doesn't mean you should completely abandon the open-pollinated types. One of the best hybrids we've grown is Moreton, a fairly early (70 days), husky growing, heavy yielding type well worth the slightly extra cost (about a penny a seed).

Don't balk at paying a little more for hybrid seed. It takes a lot of hand work to produce the seed, and you will usually get a higher yield to offset the extra cost.

There probably is no one tomato that is suited for all gardeners, and for that reason you can try two or three different varieties in the same patch. Valiant is a good early one. Glamour is crack resistant. Red Jacket is a good "potato-leaf" tomato with a flavor hard to beat.

Rutgers, Homestead and Manalucie are others you can try. When you get a variety that does well for you, stick with it. Next week: More about Tomatoes for the Home Garden. Don't miss our series!

Mushrooms Does it pay to grow mushrooms in the cellar? Maybe for fun but not for profit. The prepared mushroom trays you buy at seed stores give you a chance to see how mushrooms grow, and with proper care you can get enough to eat for a while.

Fruit cellars work out best, and it makes no difference if there is light or not. Light won't harm the crop, although direct sun isn't advisable. The big secret depends on how well you watch the moisture in the mushroom "bed". Keep the top inch damp. A sheet of newspapers over the trays keep moisture in, and it can be removed to pick mushrooms or to water the soil. Best temperature is between 50 and 60 degs. You can buy ready-prepared trays, or you can buy pure culture spawn prepared on dried tobacco stems. About one-half lb. is needed to spawn 35 sq. ft. of bed.

Don't fall for the gimmick of raising mushrooms for resale to a company which pays fantastic prices for each pound of mushrooms you grow. This is a cheap trick to get you to spend a lot of money.

Grow mushrooms in your basement for your own pleasure, and don't think of it as a profit venture. Free: Want to know more about mushroom culture? Send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope and ask for my bulletin, "How to Grow Mushrooms at Home." Our guide is full of good tips.

I also have another excellent bulletin, prepared by the American Mushroom Institute, entitled "The Mushroom Recipe Book." This guide is filled with good tips on using mushrooms as a main dish, with meat, fish, chickens, soups, dips, salads, snacks. If you'd like a copy of this book, send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope (4 inches by 9 1/2 inches or thereabouts) and ask for "The Mushroom Recipe Book."

Gloxinias: What makes gloxinia leaves floppy? It can be due to nematodes, poor drainage, crown rot or heavy watering, to name a few. If rot is present discard plant. If soil is poorly drained, repot, using a rich, porous soil of one-third sand, one-third peat and one-third loam. There is no control for nematodes.

If a gloxinia produces a lot of buds which fail to open, this can be due to dry air, thrips or a fungus disease. Buds that "blast", that is suddenly shrink, turn brown and die can be plagued with any of the following: too much water, too much plant food, botrytis, lack of humidity, thrips, or watering with cold water.

It's always a good idea to bake soils for African Violets and gloxinias as well as other house plants. Simplest way is to bake in an oven for half an hour, with temperature around 250 degs. If your gloxinias grow tall and lanky that means they are not getting enough light.

Question Box

Question Of The Week: D. R. of Stroudsburg: "I wish you'd answer this question for me. We want to grow some ivies in water, and have many colored bottles for this. I heard that green glass is bad, brown glass is better. Clear glass looks awful because the white roots show up. I have a collection of antique bottles and would like to show them off, if I knew which colors were best for growing the vines."

It really makes no difference what the colors of the bottles are. Certain ivies will do fine in all kinds of bottles, although the objection to clear glass is that you can see the large masses of white roots.

As I mentioned recently all you

(microscopic) will also cause leaves to dry up. Keep foliage sprayed with malathion, or syringe with water 3 or 4 times weekly with plain water in a bath tub.

B. H. Of Lansford: "Your readers may be interested in this little job during the winter months: Go to a hardware store and buy a sheet of aluminum. This makes an ideal material for making lasting garden labels. With a pair of tin snips you can make good-sized labels for less than one cent apiece. Use a china marking pencil for writing on them.

The writing surface can be renewed in a jiffy with steel wool or a brisk rubbing with a cloth.

The Daily Record, The Stroudsburgs, Pa. — Thurs., Jan. 4, 1962

I've had labels outside for 3 years, and they are just as legible today as when written."

B. H. Of Nazareth: "I bought some insecticide for house plants and directions called for one to two quarts of water. Does that mean one teaspoonful or one tablespoonful? You'd think the company would be smart enough to write it out in full so we wouldn't make mistakes."

One small "t" means a level teaspoonful; large "T" means level tablespoonful. Here are other symbols or abbreviations that may help you: pt equals pint, qt., quart, WP means wettable powder

E means liquid (called emulsifiable concentrate to baffle you), and 2 cups equals 1 pint, or 16 Three t equals 1 T: 2T equals 1 ozs.

How to invest in freedom on the installment plan

You can't buy freedom. For cash or installments or any other way. It's not for sale.

You can make a sound investment in freedom, though, by investing in U.S. Savings Bonds. Just $4.33 a week on payroll savings where you work will buy a $25.00 Bond each month.

As your savings grow, built up by 3 3/4% annual interest, you get closer to financial freedom—a desirable state for each of us if America is to be financially strong.

At the same time, your dollars go to work for another kind of freedom... the kind you'll find fully described in a document conceived nearly two centuries ago at Independence Hall.

Start buying Bonds where you work now. When you do, you'll be joining 8 million Americans who have signed up for a regular share of freedom each month.

Keep freedom in your future with U.S. Savings Bonds

Interpreting The News

Latin - American Political Wheels Churning Faster

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Wheels within the wheels of Latin-American politics are turning faster every day in response to the ferment of the Alliance for Progress in its effort to bring the consolidated strength of the hemisphere into line against Communism.

Just as surely as a man will arrive in the East if he travels westward far enough, right and left forces in Latin America are coming closer and closer together in opposition to the reforms which the middle-roads believe essential to success of their program.

Latin-American politics always takes so many confusing shapes that North Americans are inclined to throw up their hands without really attempting to understand, and even the closest students get caught with their evaluations down.

Do Have Bearing

Things which would seem to have no bearing do have a bearing. Every little turn of the wheel has its unexpected ramifications.

In Guatemala a faction which once led the country into the hands of Communists, producing an American-sponsored revolution, is seeking resurrection. The President, defending a regime which the United States favors, seeks to create what the United States is forced to say is an erroneous impression, that he has obtained North American support for territorial claims against Britain's Honduras.

He plays upon a great national aspiration for political purposes, and the United States is put in the middle with one of her great allies and with the extremists of Latin America who resent any role she may play in their politics, whatever it may be.

Many little currents always run in conflicting directions.

All except the Communists are happy to see signs of stabilization along liberal lines in Santo Domingo. Yet it does remove one point where some unity had rallied.

Ties Remain

Ties remain between Iberian and Latin-American politics. If the Latins are happy when the United States takes a general stand against colonialism, some of them are also unhappy when she opposes the interests of Portugal.

If they are happy over the economic development program, many of them are unhappy about who will have spending of the money and the reforms demanded, or what it will do to the Communist movement which considerable minorities approve.

If the President of the United States goes to Bogota or Mexico City other countries feel slighted, and both left and right factions fear any resulting solidification of the Center against them.

These are just samples of the undercurrents which will swirl around the diplomats when they meet later in the month to consider action against the Fidel Castro regime in Cuba.

Castro himself is contributing to their unity on this point. But conflicting interests in both business and politics nearly always hold hemisphere conferences to little better than compromises.

Contracts
Awarded
For Bridges

HARRISBURG (AP)—The High-Department announced Wednesday the award of contracts totaling $640,277 for replacement of obsolete bridges in five counties.

The contractors and the counties:

Chester — LR 15095, between Chester Road and Malvern, 1.26 miles, J. D. Eckman, Inc., Atglen, $197,439.

Cumberland-York — LR 21057-66028, replacement of steel truss bridge over Yellow Breeches Creek, Hemphill Brothers, Inc., Camp Hill, $39,381.

Greene — LR 20087, Richhill Township, between Bristeria and Hixbee, replacement of two narrow timber bridges over Long Run and North Fork of Wheeling Creek, Mc Anallen Brothers, Inc., Washington, $134,056.

Montgomery — Route 73, between Gibbertsville and Layfield, 1.96 mile, widening and surfacing. This is a section of heavy duty traffic road beginning at the intersection of Swamp Pike and ending at intersection of state Route 633, Joseph Ciccone & Sons, Inc., Quakertown, $107,211.

Montgomery-LR 46196, Lower Frederick and Upper Salford townships, 0.24 mile, bridge over Perkiomen Creek, Lansdowne Constructors, Inc., Lansdowne, $112,188.

More Troops To Fly To Germany

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will fly two more infantry battalions to Germany in mid-January, informed sources said yesterday.

It will be the first overseas airlift by the strike command, a new United Army-Air Force fire brigade organization designed to speed forces to any troubled spot in the world.

The move will involve perhaps 4,000 Army troops, plus a large number of Air Force transport and other planes and their crews, the sources said.

The two battle groups, it was understood, will be drawn from the 4th Infantry Division, a regular Army outfit based at Ft. Lewis, Wash. Army National Guard or Reserve elements now on active duty are not expected to take part.

It brought the total for the first 11 months of 1961 to 1,122,240 units, up 1.6 per cent over the January-November period in 1960.

Retired PP&L
Official Dies

ALLEN TOWN, Pa. (AP)—George M. Keenan, Sr., 70, retired vice president of Pennsylvania Power and Light Co., died yesterday in an Allentown hospital.

In 1956, after he retired as vice president in charge of engineering, he went to Greece for a New York consulting firm and advised that country on financing, engineering, management and operation of its electric power system.

A native of Indianapolis and a graduate of Purdue, he had been with PP&L for nearly 38 years. Survivors include the widow, Florence; two daughters and three sons.

The Daily Investor

Mutual Funds, Again

By William A. Doyle

Q. A recent analysis by a business magazine shows that common stock mutual funds have not performed as well as the Dow-Jones 30 Industrial Average or the Standard & Poor's 500 Stock Index, in either growth in value over the past 10 years or in dividends.

How is this possible? Mutual fund managers are supposed to provide all kinds of investment guidance—for which they receive advisory fees running into millions of dollars. Shouldn't the funds outperform the averages in both capital performance and dividends?

A. This is a hot topic. Many mutual fund people will blow their stacks, if you bring it up. Before we get into this discussion, we should have a few fast definitions.

A common stock fund is a mutual fund which takes the money it receives from the sale of its shares and invests that money exclusively (or almost exclusively) in common stocks of many different companies.

The Dow-Jones Industrial Average and the Standard & Poor's Stock Index are methods of measuring the trend of stock prices in general. The D-J Industrial Average is compiled by using the prices of 30 very high-grade common stocks. The S&P Stock prices of 500 common stocks.

When the averages rise from one day to the next, it's a pretty good indication that stock prices in general are up. But is doesn't mean that the prices of all stocks are up. It doesn't even mean that the prices of all stocks used to compile the averages are up. It is simply an indication of the general trend of stock prices.

Over the past 10 years, the averages have gone way up—because the market prices of most stocks have gone way up. The prices of some stocks, of course, have gone down.

Mutual fund executives like to point out that you can't "buy the averages." They stress that, by buying shares of a mutual fund, an investor diversifies his holdings through indirect ownership of many different stocks. And such an investment is under professional management.

Most mutual fund big wheels claim that a fund should not be expected to "outperform the averages." Most of them assert that is not the purpose of a mutual fund.

But, despite that magazine piece you read, the fact of the matter is that a good number of mutual funds have outperformed the averages, fairly consistently, in either growth or income. Many have not.

Frankly, no mutual fund should be expected to outperform the averages in both growth of asset value per share and dividend income.

However, in the opinion of this one observer, each common stock mutual fund should be able at least to match the performance of the averages, in either growth or income—depending upon the specific investment aim of the particular fund.

Q. I own some income bonds of a big railroad. These bonds are traded "flat." The last interest payment was in November. If I sell the bonds now, will I receive the interest that has accrued since that last interest payment date?

Index is compiled by using the

A. No, That's what is meant by trading flat. Most bonds are traded on an "and interest" basis. This means that, in addition to the trading price, the buyer also pays any interest that has built up (accrued) since the last interest payment date.

But when bonds are traded flat, the buyer pays the seller only the trading price. No accrued interest is added.

(Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.)

200,000 Have Fled Germany

BONN, Germany (AP) — More than 200,000 refugees from East Germany fled to West Germany in 1961, the Ministry for Refugees reported yesterday. It added that many more escaped, but did not register.

The figure was an increase over 1960 when 199,388 registered. But the Communist wall erected across Berlin in August largely stopped the flight. Only 2,420 were registered in December, lowest monthly total for the year.

HERE ARE 2 OF THE NEW JET-SMOOTH CHEVROLETS

WHICH ONE IS THE CONVERTIBLE AND WHICH THE HARDTOP?

Did your keen old eyes tell you the top one's the convertible? Well, sir, that turns out to be our new Impala Sport Coupe whose solid steel roof line is a dead ringer for the Impala Convertible's below. But after rich new styling, then what? Look at the power department, where there's a new choice of V8 vigor. In the ride department, things are Jet-smooth. In glamor and go, comfort and craftsmanship, this one's got everything you'd reasonably expect of an expensive car. Except the expense.

Slip inside a Jet-smooth Chevrolet, relax in one of the comfort-high seats and notice how good you feel. Ready for action? Just flick the key and let 'er purr (you have your choice of two standard engines—a 135-hp 6 or 170-hp V8—or optional-at-extra-cost V8's way up to a 409-hp mile-shrinker). That gentle cradling motion you enjoy is Jet-smooth ride at work. And the richness and spaciousness of the interior are Body by Fisher at work.

Now, we ask you, is there any more you could reasonably expect of a car? If there is, your dealer will be very happy to show you (1) just where you can find it in the handsome new Jet-smooth '62 Chevrolet and (2) what it feels like to own a costly car—without the cost.
